

Lighthouse

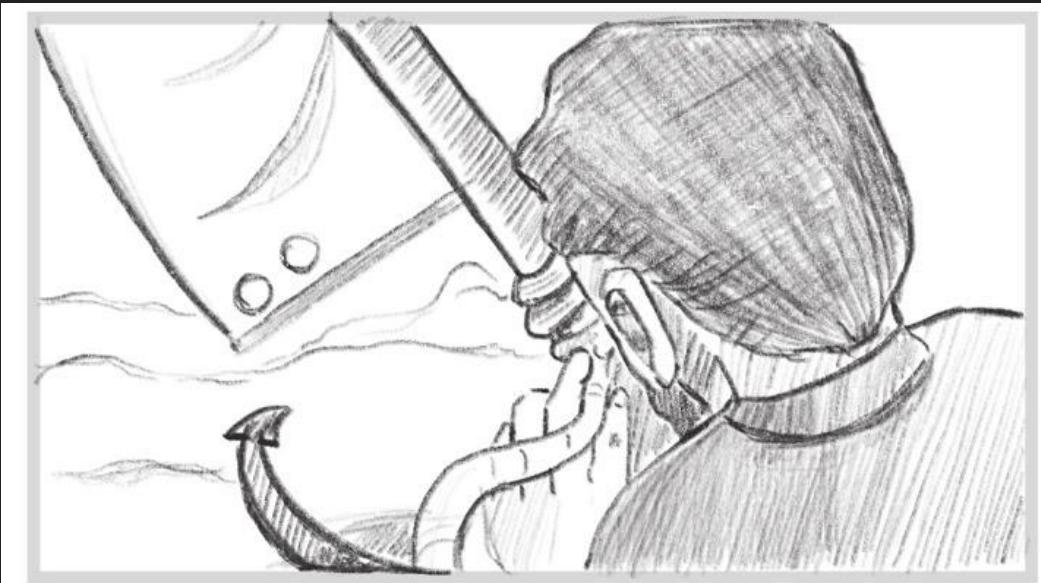

Group 10

By Brandon, Aleksandra, Van, Annette

The hat is blown away by strong wind

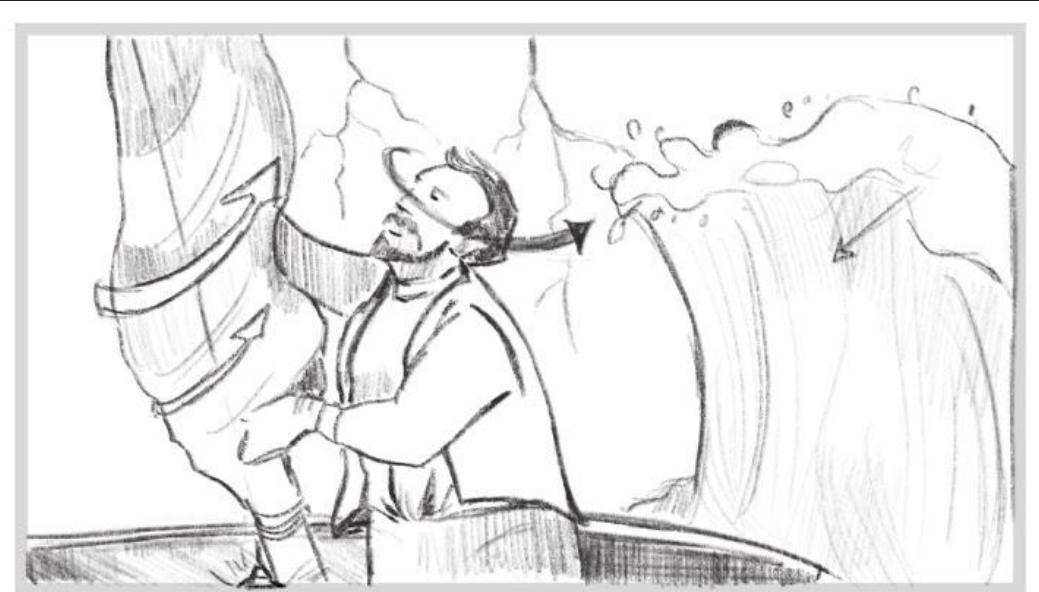

The man unties the rope

The wave raises the boat

He folds the sail; turns his head, and sees the wave

He is terrified. He turns toward the wave

The wave splashes on the boat

Underwater POV

girl awakens to the sound of thunder

jolts up from desk

turns to look at window approaches the window

looks outside to the

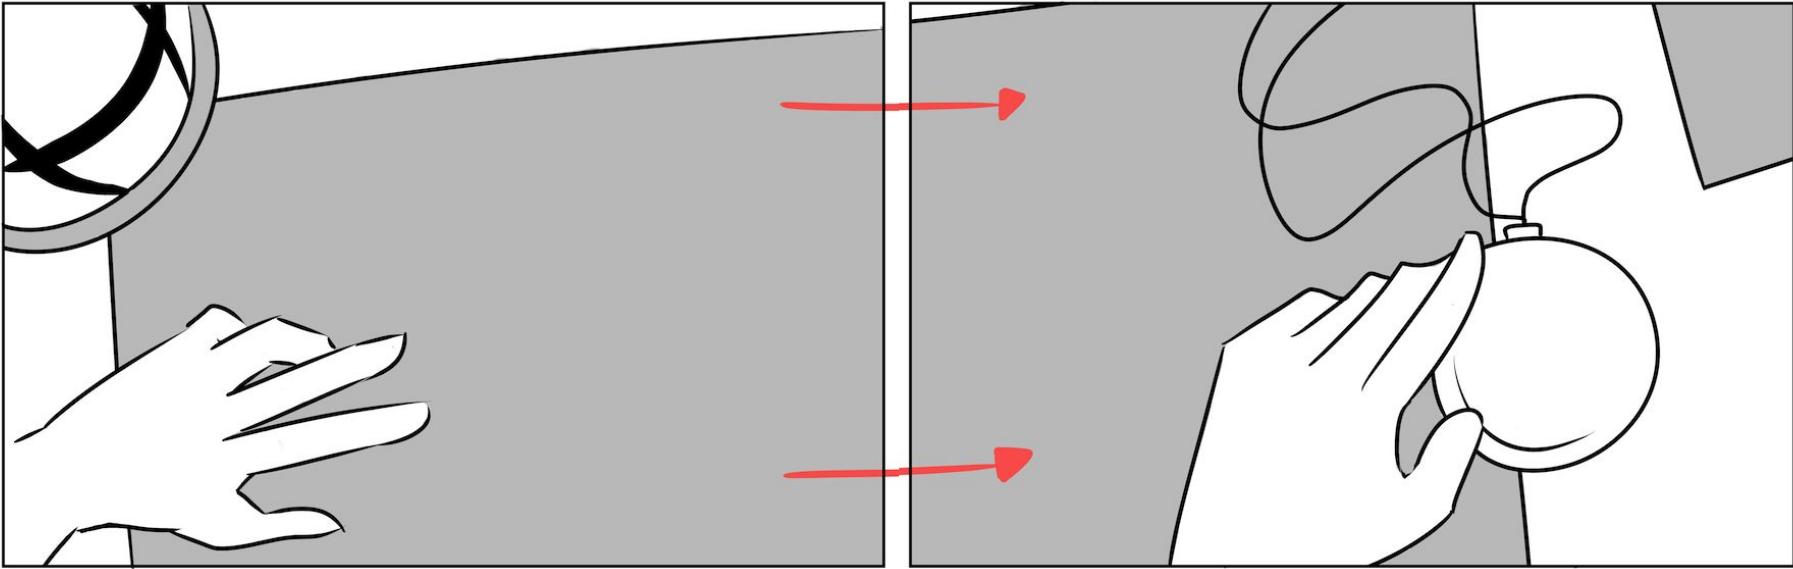

stormy night

looks concerned

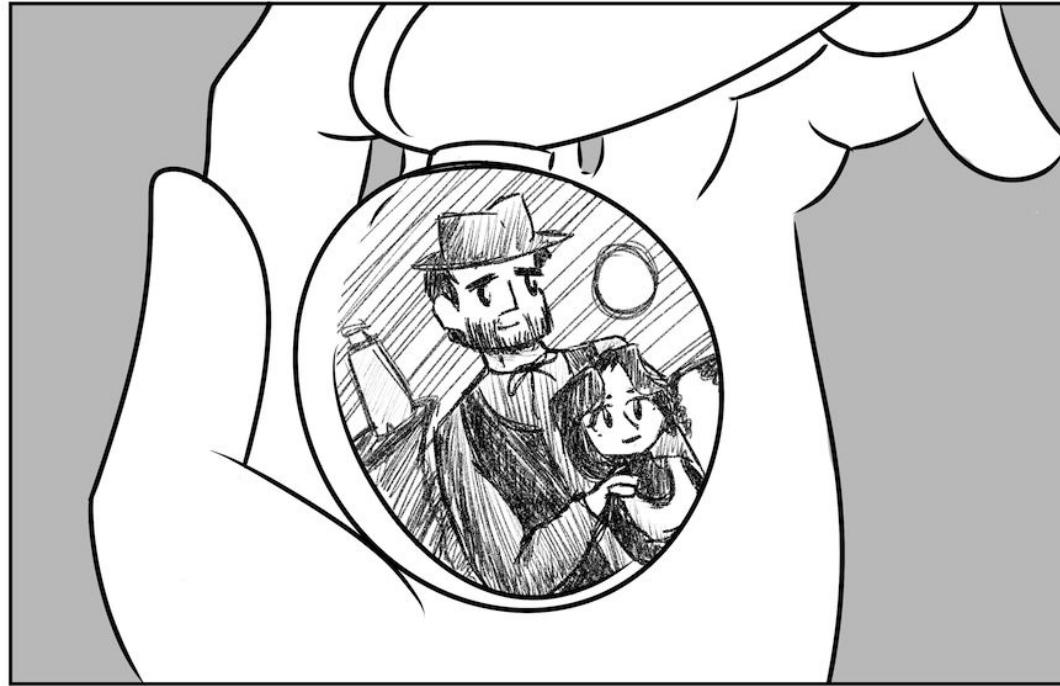

turns towards table

moves hand across a map Picks up locket looks down at locket

shows photo of the girl and her father

holds it close to her

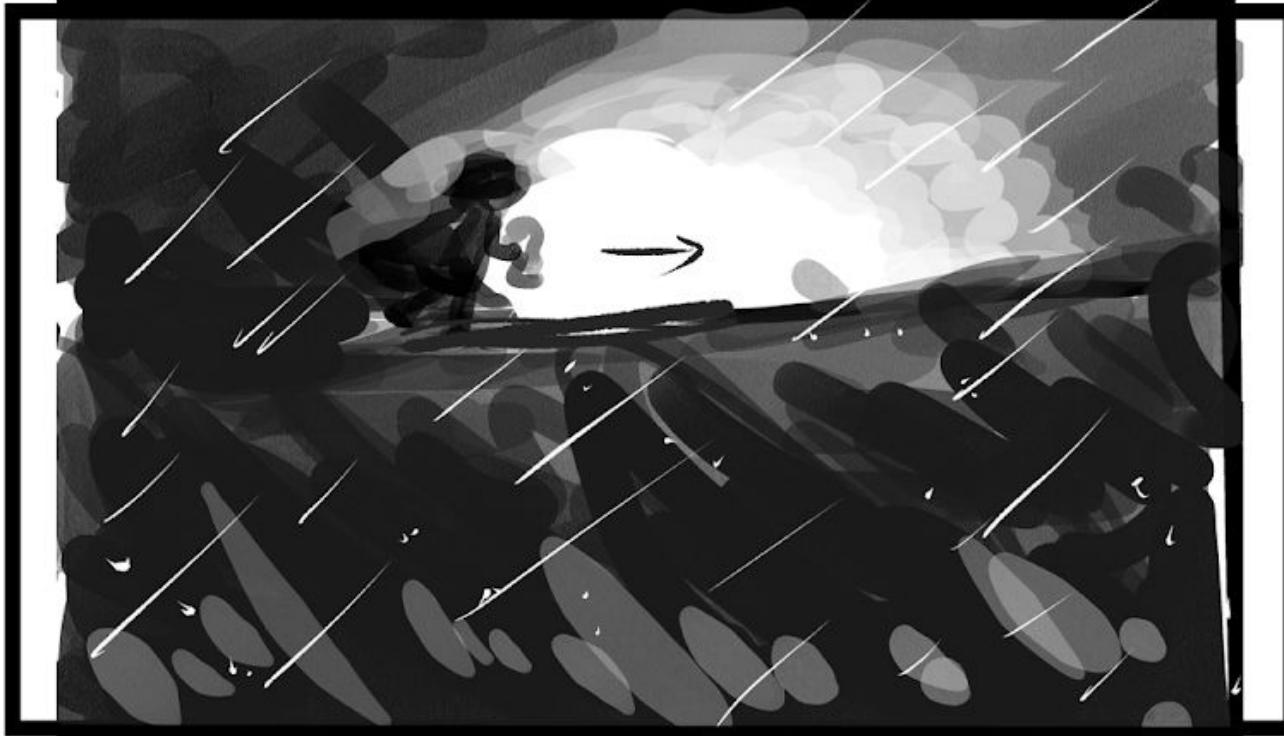

chest

hand pushes door

girl goes out raining heavily

girl walks

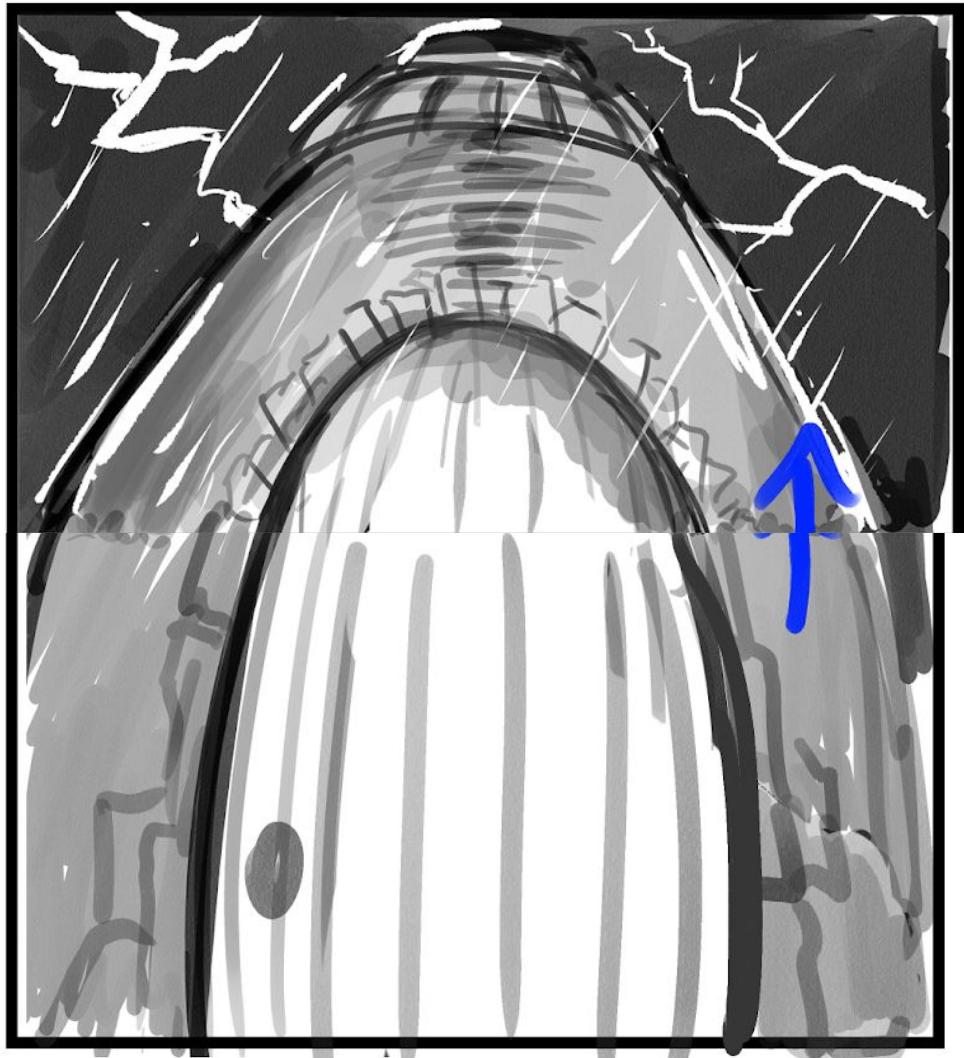

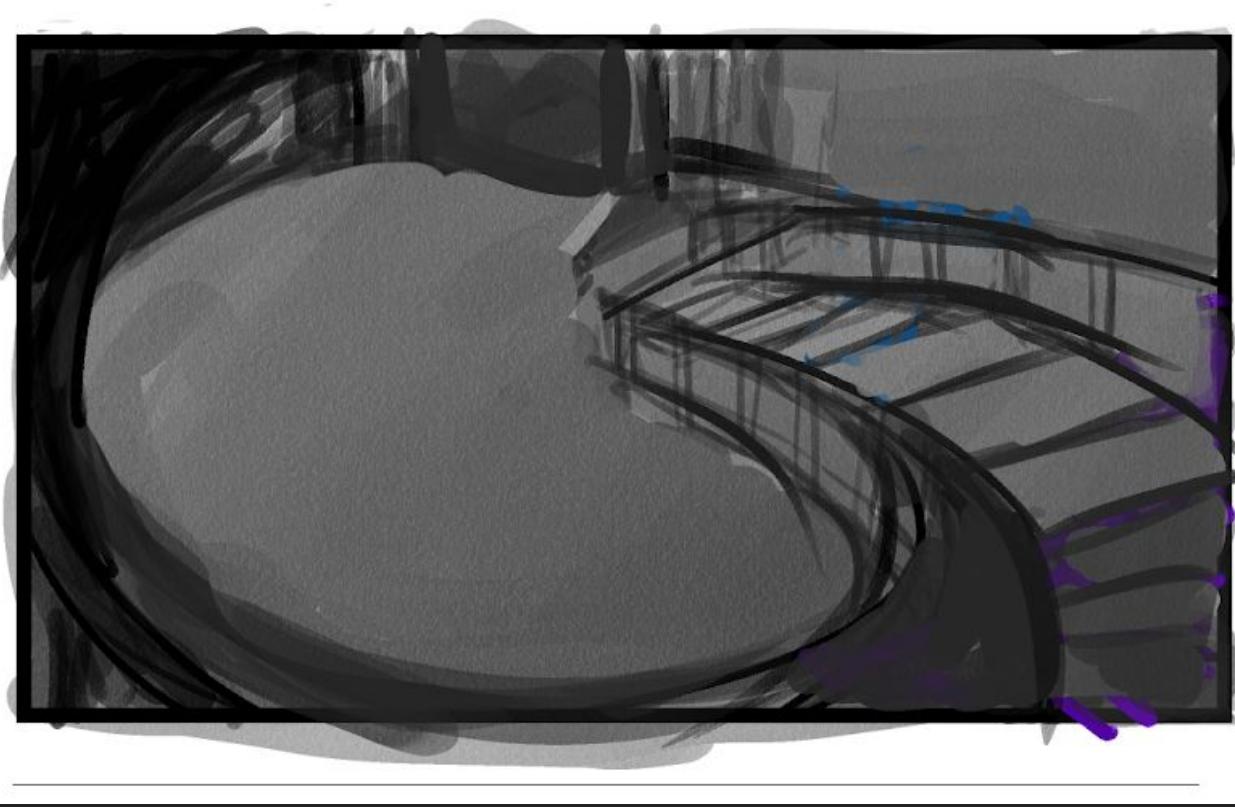

Pan // track (?)

girl's shaking because of the cold walking fast

re-balance determined

He swims toward the boat

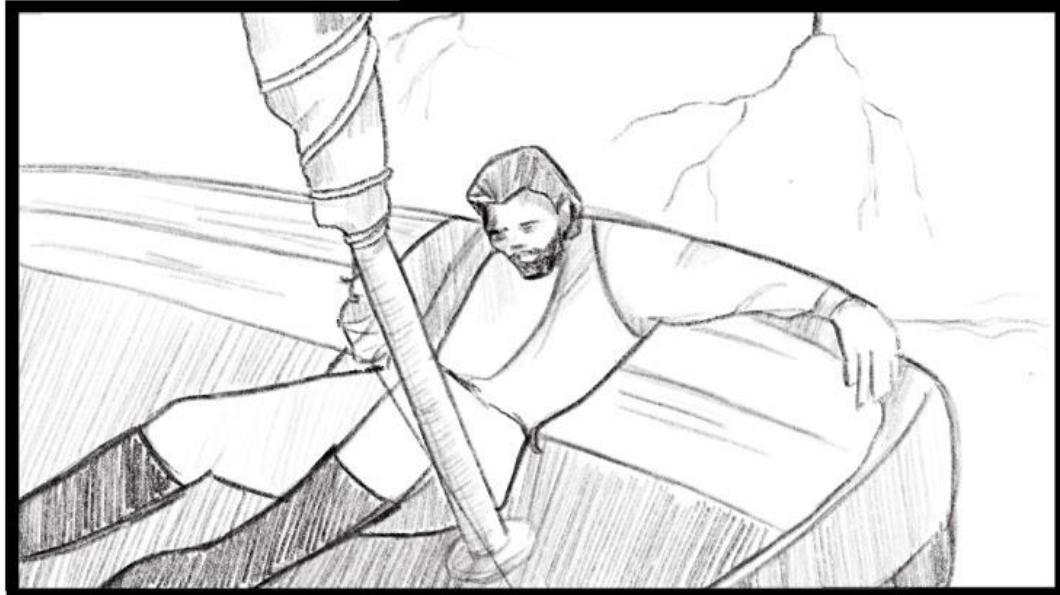

He reaches the boat

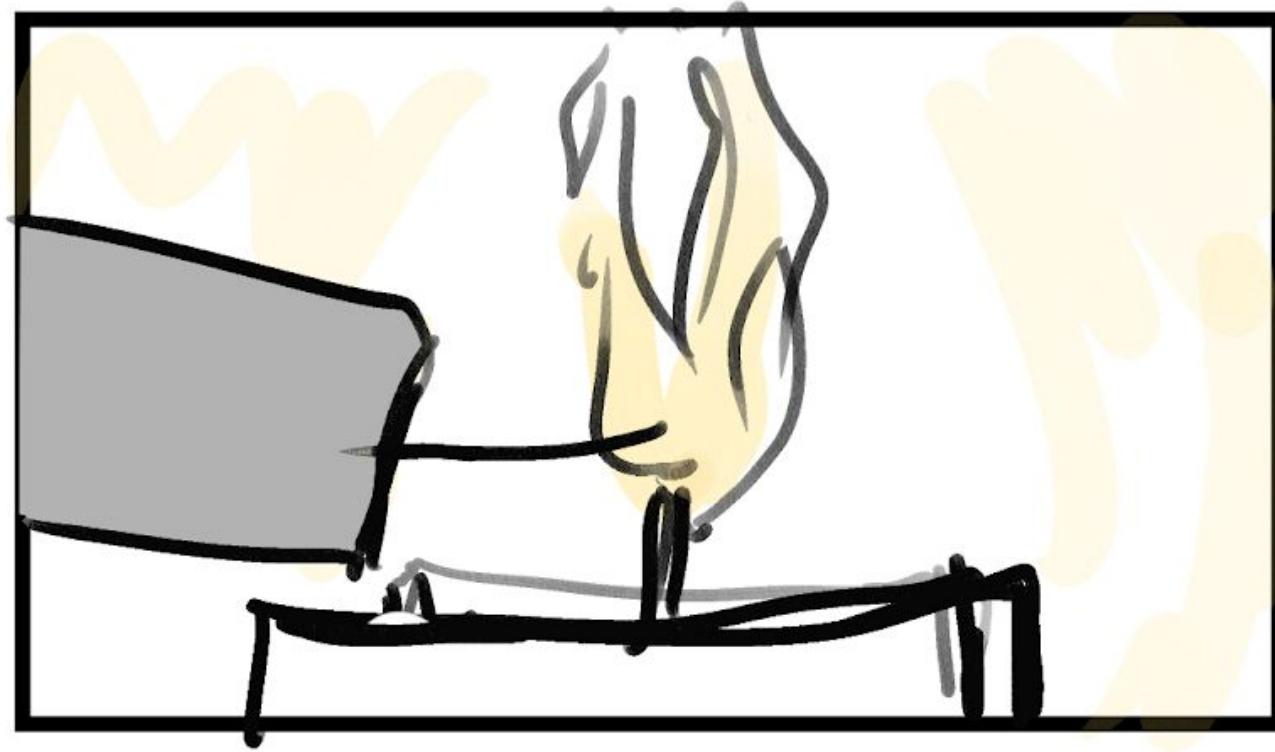

He gets on board and tries to catch a breath.

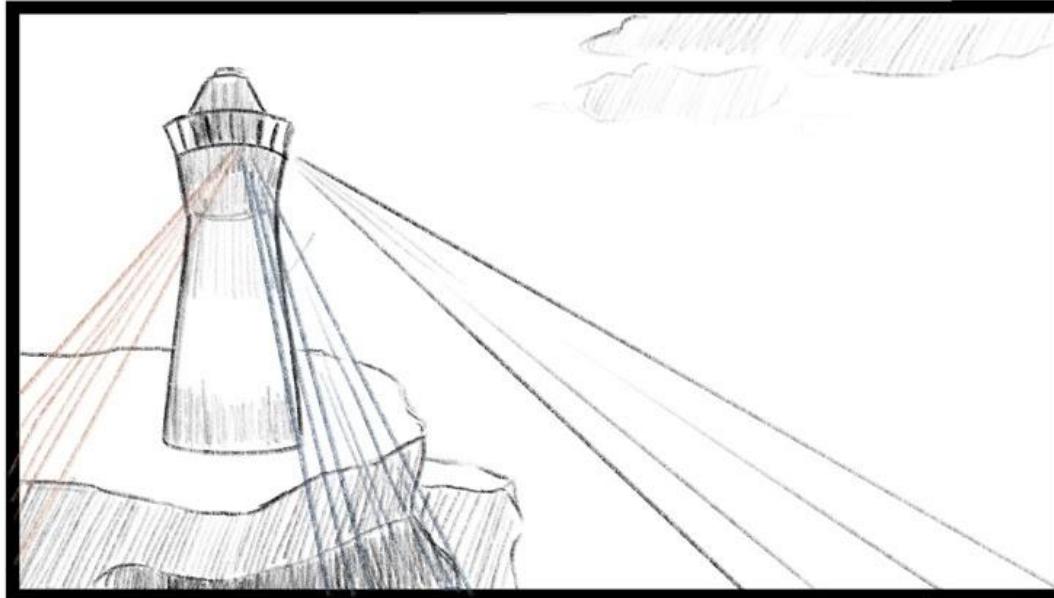

reaching toward

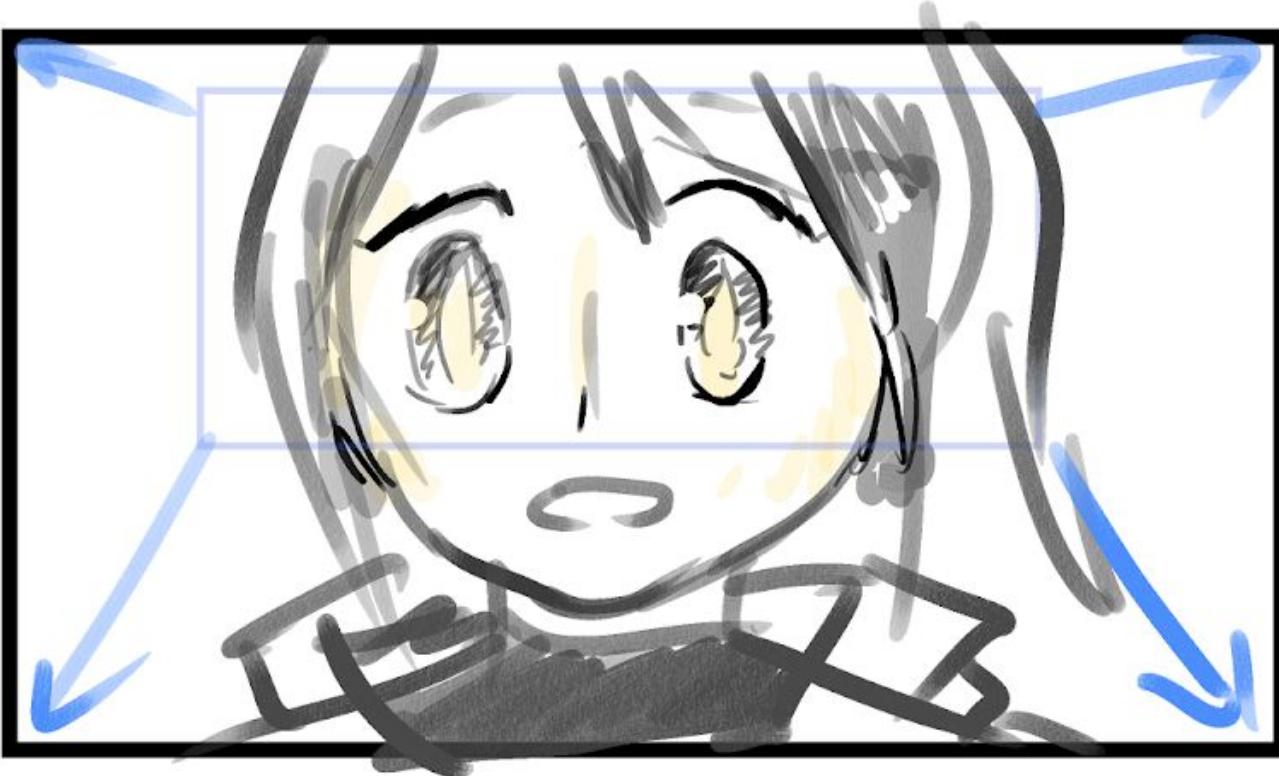

He looks around; he's disoriented

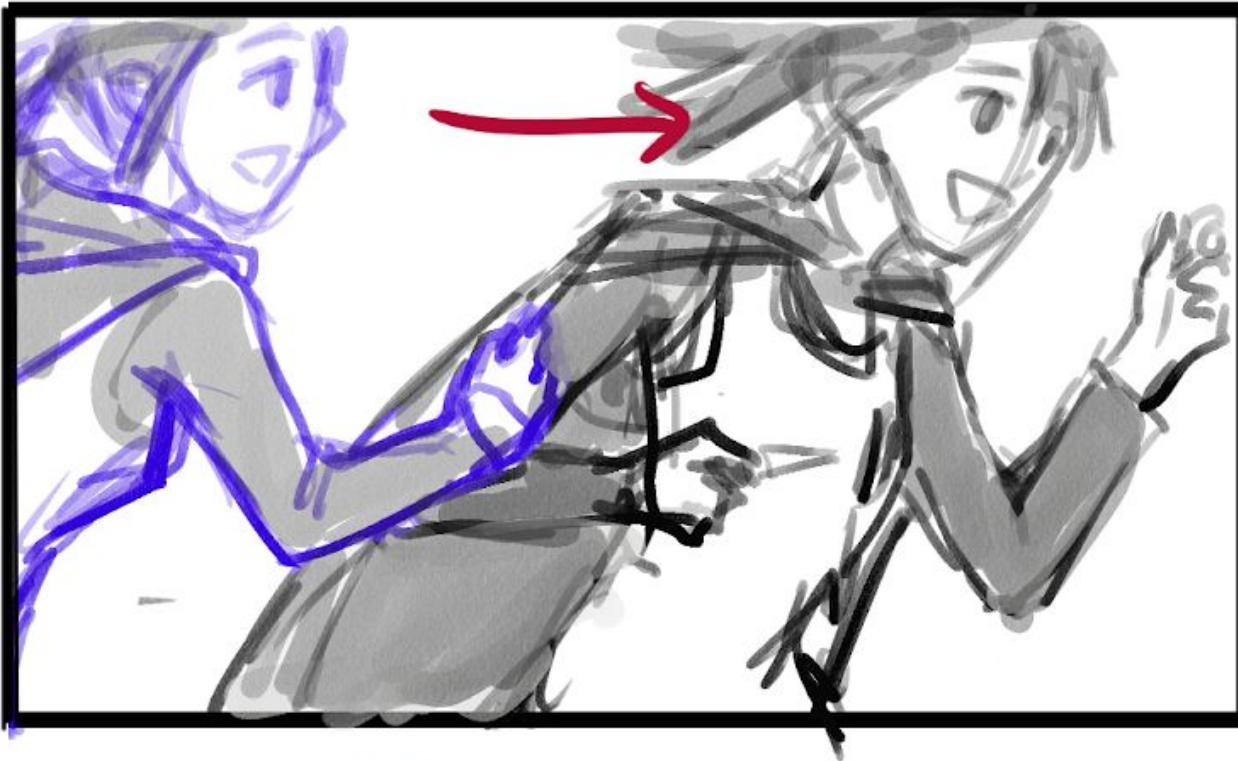

Suddenly, the light comes out from the light-house blink

turn head

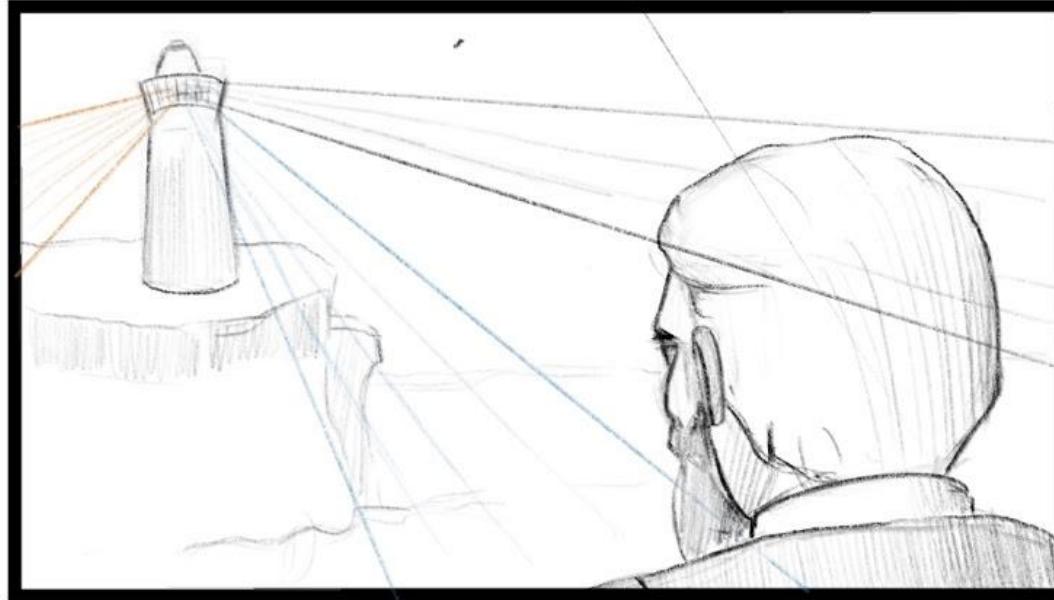

Kun

Camera moves to the back

He sees the light

He happily rows to the coast

